ONE PRICE TO ALL.

HARROWS!

ROMAN,
Adjustable frame with three detachable teeth.

TERRELL,
Stationary frame with three detachable teeth.

LITTLE JOE,
Adjustable frame with nine detachable teeth.

BULL,
Detachable frame, using three straight or diamond shaped blades.

KEYSTONE
Adjustable Weeder and Shallow Cultivator.

The practical mind will be readily convinced of the advantage of an Adjustable over a Straight Frame Weeder, in as much as its construction permits it to be used, not only as a weed extirminator, while the crops are young, but as a SHALLOW CULTIVATOR between the rows until the crops mature, which method of cultivation has interested the up-to-date farmer to such an extent that the thousands who have been agitating it are a unit in testifying to its necessity, claiming that growth and production of crops depend upon soil and shallow cultivation, and that no implement yet invented is as adapted to the condition as the Keystone Adjustable Weeder and Shallow Cultivator. These Weeders can be widened to 71 feet, or narrowed to 30 feet. They can be furnished with either flat or round teeth.

Our Implements lessen the labor and add to the profits of farming.

The Farmers' Educational and Co-Operative Union of America.

CONDUCTED BY J. C. STRIBLING.

Communications intended for this department should be addressed to J. C. Stribling, Piedmont, S. C.

Farmers' Union Take Notice.

All Farmers' Union men interested in the matter of nitro-culture and the warehouse business are requested to be sure and turn out at the next county meeting. There will be some information of vital interest to farmers to be made known at this meeting.

Encouraging to Farmers.

Some time back the Farmers' Union of Anderson county made a formal request of Clemson College to allow the farmers the privilege of selecting some of the speakers at the coming State Farmers' Institute, and the officials there no doubt will grant this request. All this has a very encouraging outlook and is getting the farmers in closer touch with their college. This ought to make the fact plain to the farmers that the agricultural features of Clemson College are for the benefit of the farmer, and if the farmer will co-operate with the College, great good for the benefit of the farmer will grow out of it. Or, in other words, the agricultural feature of Clemson College is just about as good or indifferent as the farmer wants it to be or make it.

The attempt to diversify a large class of farmers from Clemson College have done harm to the whole State. This opposition beyond doubt was used to appeal to the prejudice of the less intelligent class of farmers to forward the selfish motives of individuals and a class of small 2x4 politicians, who thrive merely upon the rat barn of prejudice among the less progressive class of our people.

The Farmers' College and the Farmers.

Do the farmers of South Carolina realize the fact that we have in this State one of the best equipped agricultural colleges and experiment stations in the country? If they do we are sure that the farmers as a whole do not appreciate the valuable work that these institutions may be able to do for the interest of the farmer, or they would make better use of this grand opportunity than they have been doing up to this time.

Recently the farmers have made considerable inquiry as to the real merits of the much talked of Aldrich system of planting mixed crops of cotton and corn. 2 rows of cotton and 3 rows of corn, alternating in this way through the whole field—but we have not been able to find where any authoritative actual experiments have been made as to actual comparative test by actual measurements and weights.

The committee on the good of the Farmers' Union have taken up this matter in a co-operative way with Clemson College, and some eight or ten comparative tests on different soils will be made this season, which will put the farmers in possession of real knowledge of the facts as to the merits of this system, as well as comparative values of crushed cotton seed, stable manure, ashes and commercial fertilizers on poor lands.

Final Report on Cotton Crop.

Washington, April 28.—The census bureau has issued the final report on the cotton crop grown in 1904, showing a total production of 13,584,457 bales of 500 pounds. The crop exceeds that of 1903 by 3,491,386 bales, or 35 per cent. The largest crop produced in the United States prior to 1904 was that of 1893, which amounted to 11,235,000 bales, or 16 per cent less than the crop of 1904. The average crop for the five-year period ending with 1903 was 9,892,407 bales, or 26 per cent less than the crop of 1904.

Among the cotton producing States Texas has held the first rank for twenty years. Its production in 1904 was 3,184,677 bales.

Georgia, with a production of 1,960,151 bales, was second, having passed Mississippi, which held the second rank in 1903. Mississippi is third and Alabama fourth. With the exception of Kansas, Arkansas and Texas, all the cotton producing States show larger crops for 1904 than for any other year. The States which show the most notable increase are those of the South. The increase in Alabama is 45 per cent. In South Carolina 45 per cent and in Texas 37 per cent.

The increase in the combined production of Oklahoma and Indian Territory over 1903 is 72 per cent. The report shows an increase of cotton seed mills from 357 in 1900 to 715 in 1904.

Tidewater Road.

An important ruling has been asked of the attorney general as to the consolidation of two projected railroads in the upper part of the State. One of the roads was planned a number of years ago and was at that time known as the Western Carolina road. The name was afterwards changed by an act of the legislature of 1893 to the Ohio River, Anderson and Tidewater and was to be built from Anderson to Port Royal, with the privilege of extending to Charleston.

It seems that recently there has been some activity in railroad affairs and those who are back of the proposed road are seriously considering the idea of building a special charter was granted the road which it would seem according to an opinion of the assistant attorney general, to give the company the right to combine with other companies. A few years ago another road was projected along the same line as the Tidewater and the directors of the latter desire that the two be together and arrange for the building of the road. All of the surveys have been made and with the connections at Anderson it would seem that the Tidewater road would become an actual fact.—Columbia Record.

STATE NEWS.

—There are four candidates for mayor of Spartanburg.

—Nearly 14,000 cars of fertilizer have been shipped from Charleston this season.

—It is said that about twenty bales of cotton have been stolen from the merchants of St. Matthews this season.

—State Treasurer Jennings has gone to New York to borrow $100,000 which will be used to help pay the pensions.

—Judge W. C. Benet will deliver the annual address before the Due West Female College at the coming commencement.

—A man employed at the fertilizer factory in Charleston was killed a few days ago by a 300 pound cake of fertilizer falling on him.

—There is a movement on foot to create Edisto county out of portions of Orangeburg and Aiken, with Wagner as the county seat.

—W. L. Morgan at Gaffney had the misfortune to have a horse belonging to him killed by an electric light pole falling on the animal.

—A trolley car ran into a wagon on Rutledge street in Charleston and tore it into pieces and three occupants had a narrow escape.

—There will be an extra term of Court of Common Pleas for Abbeville County, commencing May 10th, and continuing for three weeks.

—The Southern Railway records show that there have been about 3,000 visitors to Aiken during the past season, all of whom were northern people.

—Curly Sims, a trusty negro convict in Orangeburg County, attempted to poison his guard and escape. He succeeded in escaping, but the guard got well.

—J. L. Cleary, over in Cherokee County, is making a shingle from heart oak that looks as if it would last twice as long as the pine shingles on the market.

—"Some of the most hopeful," says the Newberry Observer, "are insisting that there is a good deal of fruit left, but the general opinion is that there will be very little fruit."

—The trustees of Wofford College are considering the matter of erecting an additional building for the Fitting School. The cost of the structure will be in the neighborhood of $20,000.

—John K. Aull, of Newberry, has been appointed court stenographer for the new eighth judicial circuit, in which Newberry is located. He is a son of E. H. Aull, of the Newberry Herald and News.

—Mrs. R. A. Kennedy fell into a trench on Washington street, "reeling," and suffered a severe "ack." She fell seven feet and being a somewhat large woman she had numerous sprains and bruises.

—The bonded indebtedness of Greenville is $193,500. In addition there is a floating debt of $74,540. It is proposed to issue bonds for $150,000 to take up the floating debt and apply the remainder in improvements.

—Lawrence O'Neale and Robert Kiekmeier, both white, were arrested in Charleston for cutting James Andrews, a negro. The negro is said to be seriously out. His assailants claim that he was attacking a small boy and they went to the small boy's assistance.

—The Rev. J. T. Morrison, a graduate of the South Carolina Military Academy, while in his pulpit at Lawtonville, on Sunday, was stricken blind, and while he has not yet recovered his eyesight it is thought that with careful treatment he may be able to see again.

—William Batson, Charles Batson and James Styles were fired on through the window of a house in Greenville in which they were sitting, all three being injured, William Batson mortally. The cause of the trouble is unknown, but is thought to be the result of a whiskey feud.

—Bob Smalls, the white man recently convicted of murder in Darlington County and sentenced to be hanged on May 5th, has appealed to the State Supreme Court. This is the case where two white men were convicted for killing a negro. The other man was sentenced to imprisonment for life, and has begun to serve his sentence.

—Sam Pick, colored, aged 75, who lived alone and was supposed to have money, was found dead in his house in Aiken County, his head having been crushed in and his throat cut. The purpose was robbery. James Work, a young negro man, and his wife have been arrested, charged with the crime. The evidence against them is said to be strong.

—A special from Pickens says that W. R. Taylor, town marshal at Calhoun, was dangerously and perhaps fatally injured Wednesday afternoon while in the discharge of his duty. It is claimed that while Taylor was endeavoring to arrest a young man Baker the father approached and struck the marshal on the head with a hoe, fracturing his skull.

—A pleasant, though very busy time is ahead for many club women of the State this month, for the seventh annual convention of the South Carolina Federation of Women's Clubs will be held in Union on May 16 to 17, inclusive, and an elaborate program has been prepared. Among the social pleasures will be a reception the first evening of the reunion and another two evenings later.

GENERAL NEWS.

—A mob of 25 men broke into the jail at Hamer, La., and attempted to take a prisoner.

—A man at Saratoga, Texas, shot and killed a widow and then killed himself. Jealousy was the cause.

—Easter contributions to the churches of New York City Sunday amounted in the aggregate to $250,000.

—The residence of George T. Maull in Clarksburg, W. Va., was burned and four of his children were burned to death.

—A New Yorker secured judgment of $2,500 against a street railway company for the loss of two teeth in an accident on the road.

—Mrs. Eliza Stewart and her 12-year-old son were killed at Westport, Ala., in a quarrel with Mrs. Lingo, who claims she shot in self defence.

—Frank G. Bigelow, president of the First National bank of Milwaukee, Wis., has been arrested charged with embezzling over a million dollars.

—A fir tree has been cut in Oregon recently which made nine saw logs averaging fourteen feet in length, scaling 21,583 feet board measure. The product of this one tree will bring more than $1,000.

—A. D. Pierson, a leading wholesale merchant of Scranton, Pa., committed suicide in jail on Monday rather than face the charge in court of having enticed young girls into his place of business for improper purposes.

—Edward Rose was arrested in Wilmington, Del., for stealing a Panama hat in Honolulu, was taken back to Hawaii for trial. The hat was worth $7. Traveling expenses for sheriff and prisoner amounted to nearly $1,000.

—Miss Nannie Rowland, of Greenville, fell from the rear platform of a C. & W. C. train at Laurens and sprained one of her wrists. She was trying to overtake the train, which she thought was leaving her, and after boarding it fell.

—A deputy sheriff saved from lynching at Mount Vernon, Ohio, a negro charged with criminal assault upon a white woman by disguising the negro in a big overcoat, placing him in the bottom of an automobile and speeding twelve miles to Centerville.

—Gifts amounting in all to $250,000 will be made this year to small colleges in the rural districts of Tennessee, Kentucky, North Carolina and West Virginia by Dr. D. K. Pearsons, retired capitalist and benefactor of many small colleges in the United States.

—Joseph Jefferson, one of the world's greatest actors, and who won fame and fortune as Rip Van Winkle, has gone to sleep to wake no more. He died at Palm Beach, Fla., on April 23rd, after making a gallant and heroic fight for his life, in the 76th year of his age.

—The Filipinos are rapidly establishing their capacity for self government. They are counterfeiting American coined money so well and on such a scale that business is menaced and the government is sending a lot of detectives to put a stop to their operations.

—It is reported from Glenwood Springs, Col., that President Roosevelt's hunting trip has been crowned with success far beyond his expectations or those of the most sanguine of his guides. Five bears were killed by the party last week, one by the president and one by Dr. Lambert.

—Dr. Lawrence Bragg, a dentist of Richmond, hearing a noise near his room at the entrance of the National bank, shot in the direction of the noise and killed Dr. Alex. Nelson, of the Western State hospital, who had arrived on a late train and was endeavoring to get to his brother's house.

—R. W. McCremer was killed and it was thought that five other men would die as the result of a peculiar accident in a mine in Birmingham. The men were working in a closed room and were asphyxiated by the gradual accumulation of gas in the enclosure from a dead end of a gas pipe in which there was evidently a small leak.

—Passengers who have arrived in San Francisco from Guatemala declare that a reign of terror exists in that country. President Cabrera rules as an absolute monarch. Freedom of speech is limited and the press is under censorship. It is declared that a revolution, which is already organized, will cover the country with blood and jeopardize foreign interests.

—Last Friday afternoon a terrible tornado visited Laredo, Texas. More than a hundred persons were killed and several more or less injured. Thirty-five guests in one hotel were killed outright. Fifty railroad coaches were blown away at the depot. It is estimated that more than 150 houses were blown down, including the two hotels of the town. The governor of Texas is inquiring into the matter with a view of sending relief to the sufferers.

—At a mass meeting held at Hempstead, Texas, last week called to petition the governor to send rangers to enforce the local option law, J. M. Brown, a leading lawyer and staunch anti prohibitionist, began shooting. Many other persons followed suit and three men were killed, one man was fatally injured and two others were severely wounded. The dead included J. N. Brown, Congressman John M. Pinckney and Tom Pinckney, a brother of the congressman.
